Wardens of Fine Art & Antiquities

Should you have a requirement to move or store artwork or antiques, with over 30 years' experience we understand that preparation is essential for these valuable and often delicate items.

The removal of Fine Art and Antiques needs to be carried out by trained personnel who have the knowledge and experience to correctly handle these items with the care and respect that is required.

Packing

Various packing and crating services are available from export wrapping using soft materials and over carding through to full museum specification cases with a range of cushioned linings and exterior components.

Transport

Road, Shipping or Air service options available.

Storage

Various storage options are available including 24/7 manned security storage and temperature controlled storage for 'Museum' quality pieces.
